

SNR FACT SHEET

SPRING EQUINOX

What happens?

The sun moves south from the northern hemisphere and appears directly over the equator on 23rd September 2014.

Day and night is nearly equal in length.

Will this affect the tides?

Yes. As the sun is over the equator, its gravitational strength on the earth is stronger; therefore the tides will be higher.

Best fishing times

jhhhkjhjhjhjh